PULSECARE™ DISABILITY DISCRIMINATION AWARENESS

You may be surprised to learn that there are approximately 8.6 million registered disabled people in the U.K.; that is 14 per cent of the U.K. population. Unfortunately, it is too easy to see a person with a disability rather than a customer seeking service. We understand that as a Care service provider, you want to create a guest experience and employee workplace that is 'disability-friendly' rather than 'disability-tolerant'.

PulseLearning creates learning solutions that bring measurable business value to our clients. We achieve this through a high-energy, client-centric approach that combines excellence in people, process, partners, technology and innovation.

The PulseCare™ solution from PulseLearning was custom-created for care home organisations. Our solution provides a complete education and training solution that overcomes the day-to-day barriers to achieving Disability Discrimination Awareness (DDA) compliance within a care environment. These barriers include dispersed workforces, high employee turnover and non-native speakers.

The PulseCare™ DDA course goes beyond making your employees compliant with the Disability Discrimination Awareness Act (2005). Our course seeks to educate learners to the benefits of serving this group and creating a pleasant experience for them.

The DDA course from PulseLearning provides the foundation knowledge required by your employees working with or helping people with unique needs. This course is aimed at all professionals working in care home organisations to provide them with the skills and confidence to provide a high level of care.

Our PulseCare™ solution leverages the highly accessible nature of the Web to reduce the time and cost associated with training. The PulseCare™ solution is available to your employees whether they are currently online or not. In line with your needs, our solution may be supplemented by a variety of tailored components, including quarterly Web seminars with leading industry experts and on-site consultancy.
